FROM THE DESK OF FR. CHRISTIAN SCALO

What does it mean to be truly free? I think it's a very important question for all of us to ask both as Catholic Christians and as Americans as we celebrate our Independence this coming July 4th. We are grateful to generations of men and women who have served in the military to tirelessly defend the cause of liberty and to safeguard that freedom that we all enjoy in our country. The notion of freedom itself, however, isn't something that we've invented, nor is it something that was developed by one particular nation or governmental system. Rather, freedom is something built into the human heart and indeed, is a sign of the indwelling presence of God as the Scripture says, "Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom" (2 Corinthians 3:17).

We enjoy many liberties as a country. We can choose how we dress, what we say, the places we decide to go or live. We are blessed to be in a country where we can express our faith freely; a privilege that is not found in every place. It's tempting to limit our understanding of freedom simply to what we are allowed to do. But freedom runs so much deeper than even the liberties that our Bill of Rights grants to us. As people of faith, we believe that being truly free is not simply about fulfilling every desire that crosses our mind (as appealing as they may be), but rather, is about living for God and allowing God to live in us and bestow peace.

One of the most precious gifts that God has given to each one of us is our free will. It is a powerful gift, and we all have seen the effects in our world when individuals choose to misuse that gift and cause harm. As Catholics, therefore, we have a continual call to use our gift of freedom to choose the good. To say a kind word when it would be easier to be rude. To lift someone up even when others are pushing them down. To turn to the silence of prayer, even in the times when the noises and distractions surrounding us are louder than ever. Remember, we are all on the journey and it takes a lot of practice to discern and frequently choose the good. But if we put effort into it, and rely on God's grace to sustain those efforts, then we will truly make the world a better place and hear the voice of the Lord saying to each one of us, "Well done, good and faithful servant [...] come and share your Master's happiness!" (Matthew 25:23).

With Prayer,
Fr. Christian

Saint Joseph Care Corner THANKS: Bergen Catholic High School Oradell-Emerson Rotary Club Saint Joseph Confirmation Candidates

Recently, three organizations held drives to help the SJCC with many of its donations to various local organizations. Bergen Catholic High School (pictured), the Oradell-Emerson Rotary Club, and our Saint Joseph Confirmation Candidates, all collected items that are currently needed. The SJCC thanks them for their continual, ongoing support!

Items always needed by the SJCC include: diapers, baby wipes, laundry detergent - both regular and baby, toilet paper, paper towels, cleaning supplies and toiletries. Just drop them into the bin located on Grand Street at the entrance to the SJCC behind the church or call Peg Kohli - 201-391-0224. The continued support of the parish, local schools, and clubs has been fantastic. Many thanks and God bless!

On Friday, June 17 our parish hosted a night of praise and worship. It was a beautiful night of song and prayer, with a great turn out. Father Giuseppi, from the Franciscan Friars of the Renewal was our speaker. His discussion was about our relationship with the Holy Spirit.

STATEMENT OF CARDINAL TOBIN ON U.S. SUPREME COURT RULING ON DOBBS V. JACKSON MATTER

The United States Supreme Court's ruling on Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization to overturn the 1973 decision that legalized abortion nationwide recognizes that even the most helpless and dependent human beings have a right to life and possess inherent dignity and worth.

The Catholic Church teaches that all human life is sacred, from conception to natural death. We must oppose the many threats to human life and dignity evident in contemporary society, including abortion, euthanasia, assisted suicide, and capital punishment.

Abortion represents a failure to recognize the sanctity of human life and promotes a culture in which human life in its most vulnerable moment is perceived as disposable. It is telling that in the public debate, the unborn child frequently disappears from the moral calculus.

Furthermore, abortion is not healthcare. It is a disastrous attempt to create a false equivalency between the taking of innocent human life and the "reproductive health" of women in our society. It results in inhuman and lethal consequences.

We join with Pope Francis in noting that "it is troubling to see how simple and convenient it has become for some to deny the existence of a human life as a solution to problems that can and must be solved for both the mother and her unborn child" (Pope Francis, address to the United Nations, Sept. 25, 2020). Our Holy Father has repeatedly said that abortion is not a religious issue; it's a human rights issue.

We recognize that a woman's decision to have an abortion is often tragic and painful. A woman who takes this desperate action is often under great duress and is encouraged by social structures that are patently sinful. As people who care deeply for all women struggling with unplanned or unwanted pregnancies, we must ensure that life-giving options are available and our support does not end simply with the birth of a child.

We recognize that a significant number of our fellow citizens are angered by this decision of our nation's highest Court. We hope that all Americans can discuss respectfully how best to support women who face crucial decisions while recognizing the dignity of the most vulnerable among us.

We agree with the analysis of Pope Francis, who has made it clear that if we fail to protect life, no other rights matter.
